BETTER THAN EMAIL. MORE THAN MESSAGING.

COLLABORATE IN A CANVAS

Manage discussions with various groups, based on different activities, events or subjects.

Whether you're just looking for a place to share photos with friends, a team leader looking for a platform to plan activities with your team, or a work group in need of an easy and effective messaging app, GeckoLife's approach of co-creating canvases naturally fosters greater participation and collaboration between members.

A canvas is a space dedicated to a specific topic, activity or event. Within a canvas you can post notes, share images, videos and upload files or documents.

PLAN, SHARE &
STORE

PRIVATE

Visible only to those people that you invite and useful if you wish to collaborate privately.

PROTECTED

Searchable by all users but access into the canvas is by admin-approval only.

PUBLIC

Open and searchable to all Gecko users.

STORE

We will store the media in your canvas as an album, so that it can be revisited and re-shared in the future

PLAN

Conversations, documents, images and ideas remain archived within your canvases. Control who can view, share and upload content into your canvas.

SHARE

Share content from your canvases with another Gecko user using Messages. And if they're not yet Gecko users you can still share content with them, via email.

CHAT USING

MESSAGES

Send direct messages to individuals or create chat groups to communicate as a team.

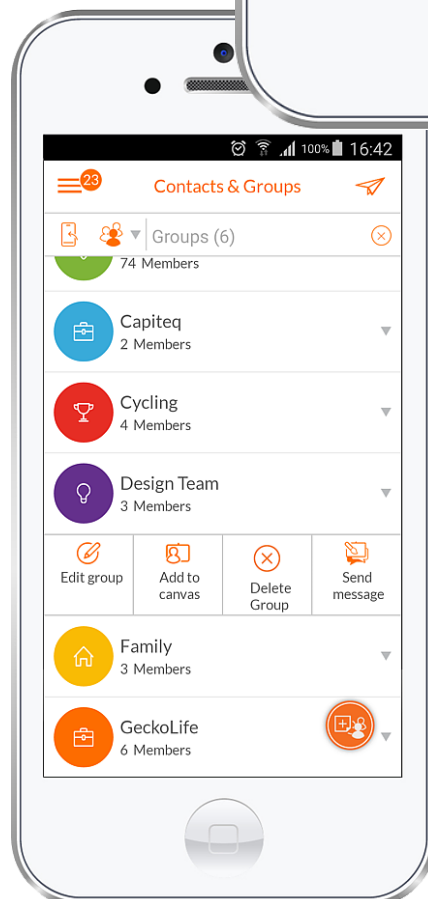

On GeckoLife you can message 1-on-1 with your connections or you can create a messaging group to chat as a team.

We know that in messaging (especially group chats), its often easy for questions and replies to get muddled up in the stream of text. So, to eliminate any confusion, we've made it easy for users to reply directly onto a message,

GROUPS

We also allow users to organize their contacts into Groups, making it easier to send out an invite or a message to a fixed set of users. These groups are like contact lists, and visible only to you.
