

COMPANY INFORMATION

About GeckoLife

GeckoLife is a platform for groups and individuals to safely communicate and collaborate. We make it easy for users to chat, share pics/videos, plan activities and store media. Created with a focus on safe and private online communication, GeckoLife enables users to easily interact on canvases by topics of interest or by a defined audience set.

Launched in 2014, GeckoLife is the brainchild of Rajeev Gupta and Ashish Trivedi, both working parents who seek to create a meaningful, private communication platform for their professional and personal lives. The company has a team of 15, with headquarters in Singapore and offices in Australia, India and the United States. GeckoLife is supported by individuals and trusts who are passionate about creating a meaningful and private online platform that acknowledges a safe digital footprint. Its mobile app is available on the App Store and Google Play.
